Bill Anton

Anton focuses on mood and passion and marshalling the virtue of landscape, figure and equine painting into one paintable subject: The American Cowboy. Born in Chicago, Anton later moved to Prescott, Arizona where he graduated from Northern Arizona University. His award winning work has been featured in magazines, national museums, and many corporate collections. Anton has won multiple awards nationwide, including several awards at the Prix de West Invitational at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and the Masters of the American West at the Autry National Center in the last decade.

Andrew Peters

Peters grew up immersed in nature. His father taught him to hunt and fish and be a good sportsman, and his mother encouraged his early interest in art. Peters earned a bachelor of sciences degree in Wildlife Biology from Iowa State University, and immediately began a freelance art career painting birds for galleries and commissions. Travel in foreign lands brought new subjects to light, and he settled in Santa Fe in 1985 to seriously pursue landscape painting as his primary focus. He often speaks with school classes, inspiring students to practice their art and pursue their dreams. His work has been featured in over forty museum exhibitions, and is the winner of the 2015 Prix de West Purchase Award.
